

Walking with Women toward Spiritual Freedom

Becoming a Godly Woman

Titus 2:3-5

Becoming a Godly Woman is the foundational course for the training series offered by the Focus on the Heart ministry.

It is designed for women who want to grow in their ability to connect with others. Taking the Lord's intention of conforming us to the image of Christ seriously, it equips women to actively live out their faith in authentic relationships.

The small-group discussion format will focus on understanding the principles of maturity in Titus 2:3-5 to enable women to actively build redemptive relationships with others.

“I have seen for the first time how a maturing community can draw you to a place of honesty and vulnerability with yourself and others if you're willing to let it. I love the sense of safety and trust that is starting to grow with the women I have continued to take the courses with.”

What is Focus on the Heart?

Focus on the Heart (FOH) is a women-to-women ministry devoted to helping women walk toward spiritual freedom. With Christ they can joyfully live out the abundant life of love to which God has called them.

Within a small-group environment, using Biblical principles, FOH addresses the spiritual and emotional needs of women, facilitating transformation to greater Christ-likeness.

Women are the heart of the home, the church, and the community.

Consequently, they have a unique influence in the formation of future generations. When a woman's heart is changed, the impact goes beyond just her life and is felt by all of those whose lives she touches.
